I come to know Bold Commerce by one of your fellow Brazilian employees, Felipe O Dos Santos, which is a friend of my wife and he was very enthusiastic on “selling” his company for me. I was fascinated by your company not only due to being located in Canada, a country where me and my wife would love to immigrate to, but mainly because of the company’s commitment in creating a pleasurable but also efficient environment for its employees.

I long wanted to experience a true agile development environment, although my current job implements some of the Scrum principles, we can’t the all the way there due to bureaucracies that take place, and I feel that a great amount of potential of the developers and quality of the final product is lost due to it.
